

The Biology Department Invites YOU to:

2013 BIOBLITZ

HIKE • EXPLORE • DISCOVER

Saturday April 20, 2013

at ULM's Biological Station
Dr. Charles Allen Nature Preserve
Columbia, LA 71414

WHAT: A Bioblitz is an all day mission to spot and identify as many animals and plants as possible. Hike with ULM scientists through the high ridges and bottomlands of the Ouachita Hills and learn about the incredible diversity of life found in Louisiana.

WHEN: There are expeditions scheduled during the morning (8:00AM) and afternoon periods (1:00 PM). Visit the link below for a full schedule.

WHO: Students, faculty and administration. Some guests are allowed.

REGISTRATION FOR THIS EVENT IS REQUIRED BUT EASY AND FREE!

Learn more and register by visiting the following link (or use QR Code above):

http://www.ulm.edu/~joydeep/cabs/cabs_home.html

